

RELEASE

I am about to embark on an enterprise that will require me to travel across central Italy and search for clues over the course of two days in a timed competition while driving or travelling in a motor vehicle, from 8/21 to 8/22/2018. I understand that it is a competition of intellect and perseverance and not of physical speed that would in any way require me to go in excess of the speed limits or violate any traffic laws should I be driving. Should I be driving I have agreed to seal my driver's license in an envelope and place it in the glove compartment, understanding that opening it for law enforcement will reveal my conduct which will detract from my success in this car rally. I also understand that I can withdraw at any time should I be uncomfortable with the tasks that are set out before me. I understand that none of these tasks requires me to trespass on private property, steal anything from any store or person, commit any battery, or act in a vulgar, reckless or lascivious manner.

I also agree not to drive while under the influence and to maintain vehicle insurance at all times.

I hereby release Marc Chomel, Michele Nannini, Jeff Fulwiler and Mark Shuman, and any agents of Road Rallies Unlimited for any damage that I individually or in concert with my teammates cause to persons or property by negligence or intentional violations of the law, during this expedition.
