

Head north to a place of ambience and bruit,
Known as your subject's Café de Nuit,
At 11 Place du Forum,
Near the front doors, please show decorum.

A doorless sanctuary gives no reprieve
For the masses left there to grieve,
The pews should be filled to hear,
The pulpit's sermon rendered here

At Eddie Ferraud's winery be on your guard,
A red nosed elf stands like a bard,
At nine's the address named for a French general,
Let not redemption remain ephemeral.

Head to a place that's Aix-cellent
It's west on A8 that you're now sent
The second exit after the Pont de L'Ar
At 68 Roi René you'll board and part Ave des Belges to Hugo for your reward
Check in quickly at the Hotel Concor

Defeat rendered Van Gogh absinthe-minded,
Through the Port's portal you're sure to find it,
Head west down the English Promenade,
To a Masochist Marquis' corner at 25 Cours, a short Balade.

The painting's finished, Vincent's talent extolled
The work for thousands of francs is sold!
Turn it over and you'll view
Where the celebration's waiting at the grand Chat Bijou!

ss Irises and self-portraits that stare from garden walls ll down the walkway of the asylum of St. Paul-de-Mausole, und the corner from his Starry Night, gure stands in memoriam of the site

Your subject's ego should find respite
From the doubt that rules him like a deity His masterpiece is en demande
At the atelier at 25 Rue Grande.
