

The Walrus and The Carpenter

Lewis Carroll

(from Through the Looking-Glass and What Alice Found There, 1872)

The sun was shining on the sea,
Shining with all his might:
He did his very best to make
The billows smooth and bright--
And this was odd, because it was
The middle of the night.

The moon was shining sulkily,
Because she thought the sun
Had got no business to be there
After the day was done--
"It's very rude of him," she said,
"To come and spoil the fun!"

The sea was wet as wet could be,
The sands were dry as dry.
You could not see a cloud, because
No cloud was in the sky:
No birds were flying overhead--
There were no birds to fly.

The Walrus and the Carpenter
Were walking close at hand;
They wept like anything to see
Such quantities of sand:
"If this were only cleared away,"
They said, "it would be grand!"

"If seven maids with seven mops
Swept it for half a year.
Do you suppose," the Walrus said,
"That they could get it clear?"
"I doubt it," said the Carpenter,
And shed a bitter tear.

"O Oysters, come and walk with us!"
The Walrus did beseech.
"A pleasant walk, a pleasant talk,
Along the briny beach:
We cannot do with more than four,
To give a hand to each."

The eldest Oyster looked at him,
But never a word he said:
The eldest Oyster winked his eye,
And shook his heavy head--
Meaning to say he did not choose
To leave the oyster-bed.

But four young Oysters hurried up,
All eager for the treat:
Their coats were brushed, their faces washed,
Their shoes were clean and neat--
And this was odd, because, you know,
They hadn't any feet.

Four other Oysters followed them,
And yet another four;
And thick and fast they came at last,
And more, and more, and more--
All hopping through the frothy waves,
And scrambling to the shore.

The Walrus and the Carpenter
Walked on a mile or so,
And then they rested on a rock
Conveniently low:
And all the little Oysters stood
And waited in a row.

"The time has come," the Walrus said,
"To talk of many things:
Of shoes--and ships--and sealing-wax--
Of cabbages--and kings--
And why the sea is boiling hot--
And whether pigs have wings."

"But wait a bit," the Oysters cried,
"Before we have our chat;
For some of us are out of breath,
And all of us are fat!"
"No hurry!" said the Carpenter.
They thanked him much for that.

"A loaf of bread," the Walrus said,
"Is what we chiefly need:
Pepper and vinegar besides
Are very good indeed--
Now if you're ready, Oysters dear,
We can begin to feed."

"But not on us!" the Oysters cried,
Turning a little blue.
"After such kindness, that would be A dismal thing to do!"
"The night is fine," the Walrus said.
"Do you admire the view?"

"It was so kind of you to come!
And you are very nice!"
The Carpenter said nothing but
"Cut us another slice:
I wish you were not quite so deaf--
I've had to ask you twice!"

"It seems a shame," the Walrus said,
"To play them such a trick,
After we've brought them out so far,
And made them trot so quick!"
The Carpenter said nothing but
"The butter's spread too thick!"

"I weep for you," the Walrus said:
"I deeply sympathize."
With sobs and tears he sorted out
Those of the largest size,
Holding his pocket-handkerchief
Before his streaming eyes.

"O Oysters," said the Carpenter,
"You've had a pleasant run!
Shall we be trotting home again?"
But answer came there none--
And this was scarcely odd, because They'd eaten every one.

To tune of Gilligan's Island

Just sit right back and you'll hear a tale

A tale of a fateful trip

That started down a rabbit hole

When our young Alice slipped

She ended up in Wonderland

Where many creatures spoke

But strangest was the cat'pillar

Who on his hookah smoked (on his hookah smoked)

The path turned even stranger still

A tiny babe was tossed

If not for her stupid curiosity

The girl would not be lost (Alice would not be lost)

So now we retrace all her steps

She needs to get away

From Tweedledee

And Tweedledum

From the Cheshire Cat, and his smile

The Mad Hatter – the Queen of Hearts & her tarts

Got to find the rabbit hole!

The Queen is angry about her missing tarts
 Must have been taken by some brash upstart
 The Queen thinks seven were stolen by the knave
 Not the manner in which her servant should behave
 The royals have called for a proper trial
 The refuse to believe the knave's denial
 They've called at least three wit*nesses*, including the Hatter
 The pepper cook too - not that it mattered
 Alice was called as well, to her surprise

 The King invoked the Denver rule, Rule 42
 In the mile-high city, what's a witne*s*to do?
 If Alice is still trapped in Court testifying
 That should be the one place that you are now flying
 You can quench your thirst without the stairs
 And help Alice escape the trials nightmares

Where have we landed now? What is this very strange place?
These Munchkins are really small
Did we go into outer space?
We need to get back to Kansas, And take little Toto too
Not that we don't appreciate your niceness
But we have old library books past due-ue-ue....

So Hello, Yellow Brick Road!
Which leads to the Wizard of Oz
We can't get lost if we follow
Our ruby red shoes and our paws
Follow the Wiz of great power & dough
To the place with the emerald glow
Oh, the munchkins just told me our future lies
Beyond the Yellow Brick Road

What's our next step, Great Wizard? We bet you'll know what to do
Give us some brains and we need some directions
Just set us straight so we won't lose!
We just need to find our Dorothy; We can't do it all on our own

We need a more obvious way, to be show-owe-own

WIZARDS CHEST

Searching for Dorothy has been really trying
And these stupidly written clues make you feel like crying
Perhaps the best advice comes from Glinda the Good Follow her suggestions? I think you should
For she told Dorothy that only one man might know
And to find him there is just one way to go
The Munchkins also knew he is most wonderful
In his emerald city he is quite powerful
In a castle the Great One awaits your arrival
You'll need to please him for your survival
At bit to the east you'll find his cherry banner
Step across his drawbridge and into his manor
Clearly you know the magic Enchanter you seek Sing well and you'll avoid a nasty critique

The potion said Drink Me and so Alice drank
And now she feels like the butt of a prank.
Too tiny to reach to the seat of a chair
This seems less like dream and more like nightmare
Without the key, she is trapped in this place
She needs to grow to avoid disgrace
You can see her attempts and her frustration
To help Alice, go now to her location
You saw her shrink in the video invite
If you have a memory you'll have instant insight
If you need more of a clue, try this one from the Hatter
You know he loves riddles, but you're smart so no matter
The only animal here is too far to touch
So a photo with it will count for much
You must utilize every hint, by hook or by crook
Thinking outside the box or go by the book

What building has the most stories but is not the tallest?

x3

What is your size now? Can you reach the key?

Said Alice "I must be shutting up like a telescope!"

To move forward you must find cakes with "Eat Me"

She opened it and found in it a very small cake on which the words "EAT ME"

If you know Français this clue is too easy

But we'll assume not and that you're feeling queasy

She ate a little bit, and said anxiously to herself, "Which way? Which way?"

Perhaps the book will provide you a clue

If you read between the lines you'll know what to do

"Would you tell me, please, which way I ought to go from here?"

Once there it's time to sing your song

"That depends a good deal on where you want to get to," said the Cat.

Seeing stripes? Then you're not wrong

Who wouldn't like a game of croquet
Especially on such a warm summer's day?
The gardens are lovely with flowers in bloom
With roses providing sweet floral perfume
Alas, all is not happy in this Nature delight
The Queen wants her roses in red, and not white
She's crazy and often yells "Off with his head!"
Filling guests, friends, and minions with dread
Demanding her roses in only one palette?
Playing with pink flamingos as mallets?
Cute little hedgehogs hit as croquet balls?
No one can survive her insane protocols
Alice must be rescued from this scene psychedelic
A Museum should house this monarchical relic
This strange odyssey you must still pursue
Where state and city do meet with a view
Outside in the Park you must sally forth
And look in the end of the garden that's north
Past native Coloradans and a mastodon
Mother Nature tells you to carry on These sweet blooms fit the Queen to a tee
Easier to spot when you drop to one knee

To find Alice you must talk to someone who has seen her
Someone who's insight might be much keener
She has talked to several throughout Wonderland
But talking to them hasn't gone exactly as planned
The cook and the duchess just love to argue
As far as assistance – they haven't a clue
The cat is correct – they're all mad here
The caterpillar questioned her a long time
Gave her advice, and helped her climb
One side made her smaller, one side made her tall

Well, the tree will scare ya when you've lost your way
They'll scare ya when you're having a bad day
The witch will stop ya tryin' to go home
And try to stop you reachin' Emerald Dome
But you should not feel so out of tune
Everybody gets balloons!

Well, she'll scare ya when you're walking down the road
She'll scare ya when the bricks are all yellowed
She'll hate ya 'cause you landed on her sis
She'll send her monkeys for you with a hiss
But you should not stop at a saloon
Everybody gets balloons!

Well they'll scare ya when you're tryin to go skiin'
They'll scare ya and they do not need a reason
They'll scare ya when you try to get some apples
They'll scare ya when you're in the witch's chapel
But you should not feel so out of tune
Everybody gets balloons!

The Winkies scare ya cuz they look so mean
And she scares ya cuz her face is weird and green
The Wizard has a way you can escape
In his balloon your Kansas journey now awaits
So you should not feel like a buffoon
Everybody loves balloons!

Oh, scarecrow, I see what you mean!
That's the largest one I've ever seen
But you want to help Dorothy, so here's the deal
Under the right paw you should feel

Your day isn't starting as well as you'd planned
You'll need help finding Wendy in this foreign land
Peter is quite difficult to apprehend
Perhaps you'll have better luck with his friends
Peter is captain of a small lost band
Boys who have fallen out of their prams
Blissfully ignorant of what they have lost
They live in the "wilder" and by Peter they're bossed
A federal case could be made for their plight
Take one hundred fourth to expedite
No school, no rules, just playing around
On a High Ridge these boys can be found
Ura lot closer with a circle binary
This side park isn't large, so no coronary
Subtract three, then park, and enjoy the rings
Keep your feet on the ground; stay off the swings
This might be a slightly rocky clue
But you're a rally pro so you know what to do

'Twas brillig, and the slithy toves
Did gyre and gimble in the wabe:
All mimsy were the borogoves,
And the mome raths outgrabe.

"Beware the Jabberwock, my son!
The jaws that bite, the claws that catch!
Beware the Jubjub bird, and shun
The frumious Bandersnatch!"

He took his vorpal sword in hand:
Long time the manxome foe he sought --
So rested he by the Tumtum tree,
And stood awhile in thought.

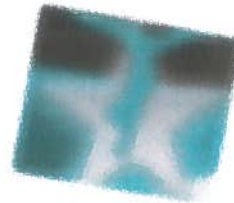

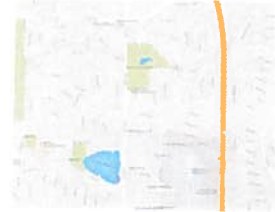

And, as in uffish thought he stood,
The Jabberwock, with eyes of flame,
Came whiffling through the tulgey wood,
And burbled as it came!

One, two! One, two! And through and through
The vorpal blade went snicker-snack!
He left it dead, and with its head
He went galumphing back.

"And, has thou slain the Jabberwock?
Come to my arms, my beamish boy!
O frabjous day! Callooh! Callay!"
He chortled in his joy.

'Twas brillig, and the slithy toves
Did gyre and gimble in the wabe;
All mimsy were the borogoves,
And the mome raths outgrabe.

It might not look like your spot
But here you sing so don't be distraught

No bonus points for arriving an hour early, unless you are the miracle team who actually completed all of your clues with time to spare. Then yes, bonus points. That said, bonus points for finishing early are smaller than you think, so it's not worth driving like a maniac (Chip Moore). The roads getting closer to the Castle can be a little hazardous, so no drinking and driving. Obey all traffic laws. Obey all state laws. (This means no lighting a joint outside on a public sidewalk.)

† Very Important Note re stamps: Do not remove stamps from their location!! Stamps can work one of three ways:

1. Stamp is affixed to a surface. Do not peel off the stamp. Press your inkpad against the stamp, then your passport against the stamp, and voilà! Stamp doesn't even move.
2. Stamp is loose. Pick up stamp, stamp passport, return stamp to original location.
3. Stamp is tied (via string) to something. Leave stamp on the string. Inkpad, stamp, passport... ¡Olé!
