

Aye, the buccaneers dropped an important clue; Thar be hidden in this map, tis true

Though ye be sprogs ye might come across; A fair boon and not an albatross

An old parchment map won by boodle; Then those corsairs added a few helpful doodles

If ye some booty would acquire; Know ye a park in the largest shire

'Neath Scottish game, near this New World state; ✕ marks the spot on vast green estate

Numbered avenue provides safe anchoring berth; A menagerie of all wilde brutes on earth

The mother of all sea-beasts, a creature vile; Traditionally found on the banks of the Nile

Consumed the hand of yer handsome captain; And stands guard o'er this land (after a fashion.)

Dinna mess with the monster if ye want a wench; Ye best volunteer on a near bench

Nae party animal lurks fer ye ass; Ye must take a photo with the beast of brass !

Searching for Dorothy has been really trying
 And these stupidly written clues make you feel like crying
 Perhaps the best advice comes from Glinda the Good Follow her suggestions? I think you should
 For she told Dorothy that only a whiz might know
 And to find him there is just one place to go
 A Metropolis of Vert shines down the road
 Gleaming like a jewel that has not yellowed
 A little exposition is all you need
 To bring this storyline up to speed
 On one state and near another
 That claims of presidents it is the mother
 Close to a fruity stream it lies
 And Auntie Em's cellar is quite nearby
 South of the creek is one smooth destination
 A peppery spice is in the same location
 Wellness is the focus of this commerce locale
 Do you need the whole world to rev up your morale?
 Might be time for a beverage for you
 What luck – they're tasty and healthy too!
 Clearly you know the Shining Urb you seek Sing well and you'll avoid a critique
 Do you need urgent care for your splitting hangover?
 After singing and sipping you'll feel you're in clover

To the Tune of "Mercedes Benz" by Janis Joplin

Oh Oz, won't you send us some flying monkeys?
The Green Witch has her own, we're down on our knees
They're rude and they're scary, and make a loud screech
Oh Oz, won't you send us some flying monkeys?

Oh Oz, can the Wizard please give us some brains?
You know that we need them, don't make us explain
We're acting like morons, we're going insane
Oh Oz, can the Wizard please give us some brains?

Oh Oz, can the Wizard please send us back home?
Once back in the Castle, we never will roam
Our gadgets are useless, we can't use our phones
Oh Oz, can the Wizard please send us back home?

Oh Oz, won't you send us some flying monkeys?
The Green Witch has her own, we're down on our knees
They're rude and they're scary, and make a loud screech
Oh Oz, won't you send us some flying monkeys?

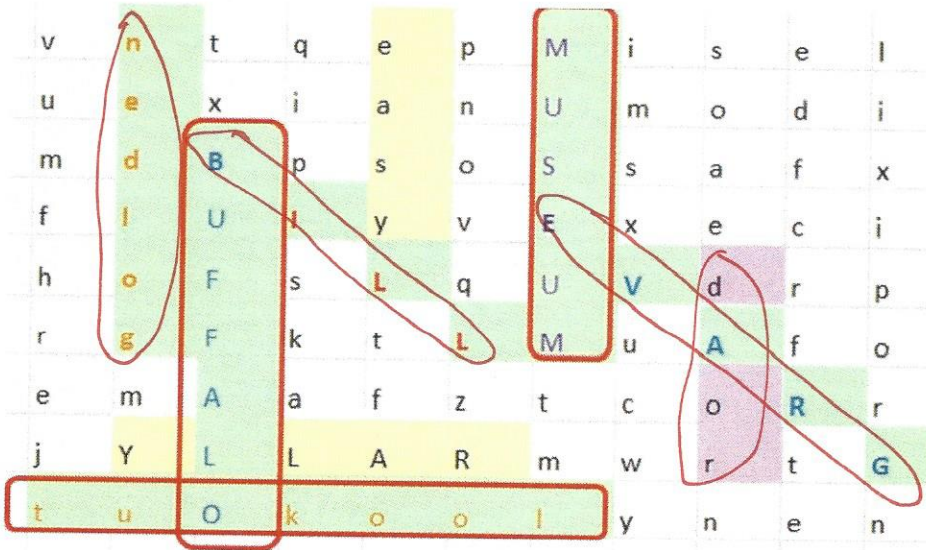

Peter's lost boys must surely understand
That Wendy now needs to leave Neverland
In a little town you'll find a stray
All by himself he prefers to play
In the cool green grass he sits with his frog
He's never had his own pet dog
Living a rustic outdoorsy life
Getting pretty useful with his little knife
Just a scrap remains to give you a clue
Follow a big Spanish river is what you should do
The main thing to remember is he's just a boy
Made of those things that he would enjoy
No sugar no spice and quite near the tracks
His bare feet tell you it's time to relax

Tiger Lily is rescued by sly Peter Pan
 Returned to the tribe's section of Neverland
 Chief Great Big Little Panther is quite pleased
 (He was very angry when she was seized)
 Perhaps the tribe has information
 About missing Wendy's current location
 The Wild West is correct historically
 Don't pass by this golden opportunity
 70 braves once toured with Mr. Cody
 Now you should learn to be a devotee
 It can get windy up there so plan ahead
 And get saddled up to climb to this spread
 Don't look for a critter; they ain't plastic here
 Things are handmade out on the frontier
 The extra points are for finding two stamps
 Visit both cowboy and Indian camps
 In between your copper animal can be made
 It's quick and easy – you won't be delayed
 If you find nine words in the grid below
 You'll have some more hints on where to go
 Up & down & backwards & slanted
 Look carefully for all the words that are planted
 Don't look for words of three letters or less
 Or your obvious trail will be just a guess

Dorothy and Toto can't outrun the tornado
No time to think about over the rainbow
Must get back to the house and the farm
Before the fierce storm can create lasting harm
South of downtown you'll be going strong
Plot Exposition will not take too long
Hardy Pioneer stock, these folks in Kansas
Hard-working farmers, no time for sadness
They cleared a Forest to build their homestead
Now they have quite the large spread!

To tune of Gilligan's Island

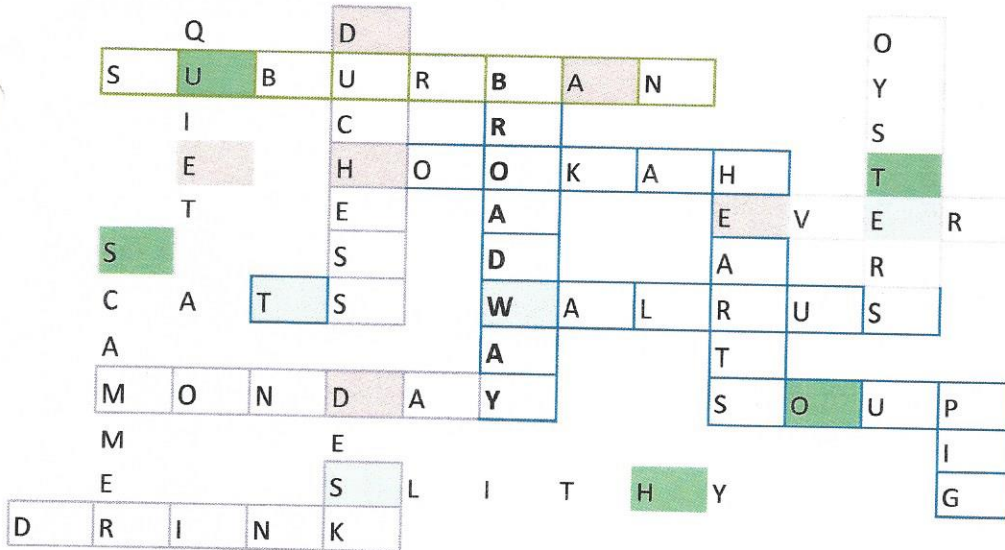

Just sit right back and you'll hear a tale
A tale of a fateful trip
That started down a rabbit hole
When our young Alice slipped
She ended up in Wonderland
Where many creatures spoke
But strangest was the cat'pillar
Who on his hookah smoked (on his hookah smoked)

The path turned even stranger still
A tiny babe was tossed
If not for her stupid curiosity
The girl would not be lost (Alice would not be lost)

So now we retrace all her steps
She needs to get away
From Tweedledee
And Tweedledum
From the Cheshire Cat, and his smile
The Mad Hatter – the Queen of Hearts & her tarts
Got to find the rabbit hole!

What scared the scarecrow you now should seek
 Just like the lion, sometimes they are meek
 In Piquito Urbano is a place most serene
 Where rio and camino verde convene
 One helpful mama keeps a watchful eye
 On her thoughtful advice you can safely rely
 Pass the flores of every variety and hue
 A stamp and caffeine do wait for you
 A shiny enchantress? Pay her no heed
 Keep chugging along for it is snacks you need
 Of course the cubs aren't too far from the bees
 Hangin' with coffee, they love their honey
 A bonus: not necessary to hunt for small toys
 As long as you get pics hangin' with the boys
 You don't need to pay to enjoy the view
 But if you're in no rush feel free to have a brew

IN TEA
2440 W MAIN ST.
Littleton, CO 80120

To find Alice, you're wise to retrace her path
Luckily for you this involves no high math
Just think of her steps in the story you've read
And where her trail thus far has led
She ate a mushroom, she talked to a cat
She sang "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Bat"
Oh! You're the Dormouse - you should recall
She was with your friends, after all
She stopped by the party you had with the Hatter
Not sure she enjoyed all your witty chatter
In a little town you must find the sweet leaf
And sing your song (but keep it brief)
Just south of Big D, not far past the woods
A nice view and grand river deliver the goods
Of main importance is the right brew
In this quaint shop you know what to do
Not far from a Prince, you'll see the right spot
Ask for a Mind Bender - it's your best shot

Tune of "Sweet Caroline"

When it began...There's a clear way of knowing
It's when I started growing small
Was in the morn...Then morn became the tea time
Who'd have believed I'm still not tall
Me...Drinking tea...
Eating shrooms...shrinking me, shrinking you!

Bye, sanity! (Bye, bye, bye)
Strangeness never looked so cool (so cool, so cool!)
We stopped for tea
And now we sit on a bar stool!
But now we...
...look for some help...To get to where we're going
There's just no way of knowing how
And our head hurts...Hurts right down to our shoulders
How can our hosts be so lowbrow?
Me...Drinking tea...
Eating shrooms...shrinking me, shrinking you!

Bye, sanity! (Bye, bye, bye)
Strangeness never looked so cool (so cool, so cool!)
We stopped for tea
And now we sit on a bar stool!

From mean ol' Miss Gulch she had to vamoose
 So her dear Toto she would not lose
 She found Prof Marvel, a travelin' peddler
 And with her plans he wants to meddle
 He did more than hawk cheap tchotchkes
 He claimed into the future he could see
 Could he have info on her locale?
 That sure would help yer team's morale
Whether in the mountains or on the plains
 Supplies were not easy to obtain
 Git yer covered wagon to the trading post
 And of the great view you'll be able to boast
 In back is a watering hole fer yer steeds
 For once you'll want to be out in the weeds
 There's tall stairs 'n short, close to the puddle
 Stick to the short or your clue you will muddle
 You'll see the wood post where Prof useta speak
 Behind the rock wall you'll want to peek
 But first, how to git there? We'll tell ya freely
 Just follow the advice of ol' Horace Greeley
 'Course followin' a map proolly couldn't hurt
 But don't pay to park for a concert
 If those extra points you want to accrue
 Take a photo with the awesome view

The Castle awaits, no matter how many your stamps
Hope your driving foot isn't susceptible to cramps
In the words of Horace Greeley, you must head west
Into the mountains if you know what's best
Yes, an old-fashioned clue without GPS
With poetry skills designed to impress
Ignore what's golden and continue your ride
Through tunnels and across the continental divide
You'll pass the Sleeper house high on a hill
Any architects should get quite a thrill
Pass the potatoes and my nephew's school
And don't stop for beaver (even if it sounds cool)
Our 34th Pres goes right through the mountain
(Your driver by now has been taken a poundin')
Don't be fooled; you still have more climbing
Hopefully you've calculated this in your timing
You are not down yet, but it's no hassle
You're getting closer to the Castle
Through pointy metal, precious to some
Your exit is near - no more boredom!
Old San Fran is the exit you seek
Round the elk to the Summit, then take a peek
South to the Breck and pass the big adventure
You'll see a big horn then past school you will venture
Lions and Tigers do run here - oh my!
When the bear holds the Tiger, left on that Road you fly
2.3 miles from the stoplight, past the estates
At 2345 your Alpine Villa awaits
Just pass the chaparral turn left off the road
Up the narrow driveway you'll find the abode
If you see Miss Gulch you've gone a mite too far
Come back to the Castle - we'll be at the bar

PRACTICING...

To the tune of "Hey Hey We're the Monkees"

Here they come,
Walkin' down the road
They're making too much progress
Turn them into toads!

I need flying monkeys!
That girl is coming with my shoes
She killed my wicked sister
So I need to dish up some abuse

She lands on top of some Munchkins
Walks through the poppy fields
Brings a lion and tinman
Don't know what magic she yields

I need flying monkeys!
I want to make her scared of me
I need those cute ruby slippers
They belong to my family

I'm not tryin' to be friendly
I really want her to be through
I'll get that little pretty
And her stupid doggie too!
